Last Saturday night, 25th September, the feast of St. Finbarr the Patron Saint of Cork, will live in our hearts and minds for many years. Young and old, present and past parishioners gathered for our Golden Jubilee Mass of Thanksgiving to God for the many blessings given to our community down through the years. We celebrated our spiritual journey with Jesus and one another. Many people and groups came together to prepare for our celebration. Their faith in Jesus was evident in their preparation and participation. After the Mass, celebrated by Fr. Denis and concelebrated by Fr. Tom and myself, and with Bishop John Buckley presiding, the blessing of the Jubilee Stone, the singing of the third class girls from St. Catherines, the gathering in the crypt for refreshments, all contributed to a very special memorable night. Thanks to each and every one who helped in any way. May God bless and reward you all.

In life it is very important to say thanks - thanks to God and to one another. We often say thanks for listening, for being there, for helping out, for saying a prayer, for caring. We also say "I'd be lost without you". Our words of thanks and appreciation are so important to let people know we do not take them for granted.

Jesus says to us too, thanks for coming to my house, thanks for believing in me and coming to me in Holy Communion. He said the same in Nazareth to the neighbours - thanks for coming in. We thank God for the beauty of Creation, the gift of faith and love.

Finally after life's journey may Jesus say to us - thanks for all you did on earth, welcome to my home in heaven.
